Before And After School Program

Afterschool programs should supplement and enrich, not simply extend the school day. After attending school all day, students deserve a change of pace. You may require certain activities, like completing homework or rehearsing a piece of music, but students also need time to relax and have some fun.

Students that are screened prior to the before-school program do not need to be re-screened for the core day program. Similarly, an individual that has been screened for the core day program does not need to be re-screened for the after school program. An SMDHU checklist version will be available for families who prefer that to the online tool.
